To Whom it may Concern:

Liselotte Sigrist came to Mrs. Churchill's country house as kitchen-maid on May the 1st 1951, and stayed until the end of September this year when this house was closed, and she returned to her home in Switzerland. During the time she was here, she did a considerable amount of housework as well as helping in the kitchen, and we found her to be thorough and conscientious in everything she undertook. I would have no hesitation in recommending her for a post where common sense and good nature are required.

Liselotte has left with Mrs. Churchill's very good wishes for the future.
