

Handwritten initials or decorative flourish in the top left corner.

Handwritten text in the top right corner, possibly a date or reference number.

Main body of handwritten text in a historical German script, likely a legal or administrative document. The text discusses land ownership, inheritance, and the rights of various parties, including mentions of 'Abt' (Abbot) and 'König' (King).

A vertical strip of paper or parchment, likely a remnant of the original document's binding or a separate piece of paper used for sealing.